the early non oromo writers have distorted the history of the oromo without scientific research they were speaking of the so called oromo migration of the 16th century against the unscientific thesis of the early scholars this work confirmed the oromo to be not only the indigenous african peoples but also belong to the cushitic africans who invented the first world civilization their egalitarian and holistic culture the gadaa system is part of the ancient cushitic civilization it is the base for modern democratic system of governance the root word of gadaa is originated from ka the creator god of the ancient religion of the cushitic africans from this very name ka originated the oromo word waaqa which also means creator of everything this shows that the oromo are among the first nations who came up with the idea of monotheism therefore this work disqualifies the missionary assumptions describing the oromo indigenous religion oir as satanism and its religious experts the qaalluus as witchdoctors or sorcerers this dissertation discovered many identical similar partial similar and few differing elements between the oromo indigenous religion oir and oromo christianity oc also the study identified many oromo cultural elements that are compatible to christianity therefore must be adopted by the oromo christianity according modern scholarship god revealed himself in every human culture and religion is part of human culture therefore no religion can claim to be the only true religion based on this principle this dissertation calls all leaders of religious institutions in oromia to change their attitude develop culture of tolerance conduct constructive religious dialogue create the atmosphere of peaceful coexistence of all religions and establish sustainable peace that serves humanity this handbook provides a comprehensive account of the languages spoken in ethiopia exploring their structures and their function and use in society it offers overviews of individual languages many of them less documented as well as detailed studies of specific aspects of language use in ethiopia

the movement of thousands of refugees from the horn of africa to australia has only recently begun to attract interest among the media and general public perhaps the least known among these refugees are the oromo people who have fled continued persecution in ethiopia by the year 2002 more than fifteen hundred oromo had found their way to australia in this totally original book greg gow provides a privileged insight into the values and meanings of lives that could easily be seen as marginal packed with insight and imageful observation the oromo in exile communicates some of the vibrancy and complexity among these people from the horn of africa who are now living in australia arising out of a series of dramatic and sometimes startling encounters the book addresses the question of identity and place by giving voice to the pain of exile not only among the oromo but displaced people more generally as gow narrates although now free in australia the oromo experience anguish and divided loyalties as the dominant values of individualism privacy and self advancement in mainstream australian society conflict with their longing for cohesion and community gow discovers that home does not necessarily exist physically but the overriding desire to construct home even away from home is pervasive the oromo are a people committed to creatively performing home while in exile a process the book both reflects and contributes to

during the last decade and a half the use of local languages for official purposes particularly in primary education has become a pronounced characteristic of ethiopian education system the fact that as many as 22 languages have been introduced into the school system since mid 1990s represents a major ideological shift from the previous policies the country had adopted over the course of several centuries the ethiopian educational language policy is radical in its scope and unique in sub saharan africa and elsewhere and it invites a close examination of its ideological foundation and even more so its implementation model the primary objective of this study was to make a critical appraisal of the implementation of vernacular education in the harari region and examine the challenges of providing primary education in several ethiopian and international languages i e english amharic oromo arabic and harari the study made a comparative assessment of the use of languages as media of instruction for primary education and concluded with an appraisal of the relative strengths and weaknesses in the use of each language from both pedagogical and social perspectives the oromo people are one of the most numerous in africa census data are not reliable but there are probably twenty million people whose first language is oromo and who recognize themselves as oromo in the older literature they are often called galla except for a relatively small number of arid land pastoralists who live in kenya all homelands lie in ethiopia where they probably make up around 40 percent of the total population geographically their territories though they are not always contiguous extend from the highlands of ethiopia in the north to the ogaden and somalia in the east to the sudan border in the west and across the kenyan border to the tana river in the south though different oromo groups vary considerably in their modes of subsistence and in their local organizations they share similar cultures and ways of thought in children of hope sandra rowoldt shell traces the lives of sixty four oromo children who were enslaved in ethiopia in the late nineteenth century liberated by the british navy and ultimately sent to lovedale institution a free church of scotland mission in the eastern cape south africa for their safety because scottish missionaries in yemen interviewed each of the oromo children shortly after their liberation we have sixty four structured life histories told by the children themselves in the historiography of slavery and the slave trade first passage narratives are rare groups of such narratives even more so in this analytical group biography or prosopography shell renders the experiences of the captives in detail and context that are all the more affecting for their dispassionate presentation comparing the children by gender age place of origin method of capture identity and other characteristics shell enables new insights unlike anything in the existing literature for this region and period children of hope is supplemented by graphs maps and illustrations that carefully detail the demographic and geographic layers of the children s origins and lives after capture in this way shell honors the individual stories of each child while also placing them into invaluable and multifaceted contexts
