the career of Spain's celebrated author Carmen Martín Gaité spanned the Spanish Civil War, Franco's dictatorship and the nation's transition to democracy. She wrote fiction, poetry, drama, screenplays for television and film, and books of literary and cultural analysis. The only person to win Spain's national prize for literature, Premio Nacional de las Letras, twice, Martín Gaité explored and blended a range of genres from social realism to the fantastic as she took up issues of gender, class, economics and aesthetics in a time of political upheaval. Part 1 of this volume provides resources for instructors and a literary historical chronology. The essays in Part 2 approach Martín Gaité's best-known novel, The Back Room (El cuarto de atrás), and other works from various perspectives: narratological, feminist, sociocultural, stylistic. In an appendix, the volume editor, who was a friend of the author, provides a new translation of Martín Gaité's only autobiographical sketch alongside the original Spanish.

This book explores the discourse pragmatics of reportive evidentiality in Macedonian, Japanese and English through an empirical study of evidential strategies in narrative retelling. The patterns of evidential use and non-use found in these languages are attributed to contextual, cultural and grammatical factors that motivate the adoption of an epistemological stance, a concept that owes much to recent trends in cognitive linguistics. The patterns of evidential strategies found in the three languages provide a fine illustration of the balancing act between speakers expressions of their own subjectivity their motivations to tell a coherent and exciting story and their motivations to be faithful retellers of someone else's story these pressures are further complicated by the grammatical and pragmatic conventions that are particular to each language evidentiality and epistemological stance narrative retelling will appeal to those interested in evidentiality grammar and pragmatics cross linguistics discourse analysis linguistic subjectivity and narrative
