for over a hundred years stories about photographs and photography have reflected the profound uncertainties and inconclusive endings of the modern world for many writers photography supposedly the most realistic of the arts turns out to be the most ambiguous as jane rabb observes in her introduction a number of the stories in this collection involve mysteries perhaps because photography has a capacity for both documentary reality and moral and psychological ambiguity many nineteenth century writers represented here including thomas hardy and sir arthur conan doyle helped make short fiction as respectable as the novel some of them were even serious photographers themselves the twentieth century is arguably a golden age for both the short story and photography this collection includes examples from a worldly group of writer eugène ionesco julio cortá zar michel tournier and italo calvino as well as the chinese writer bing xin and john updike cynthia ozick and raymond carver in this wide range of stories varying from sentimental to obsessive to sinister to tragic and even fatal the reader will find provocative examples of the confluence of the short story and photography both once considered the bastard stepchildren of literature and art michel tournier defines the supreme mission of a writer to be the creation of a mythology which allows for interaction with his readers who seem to be losing their critical faculties in our contemporary postmodern world dominated by consumption and dizzying technological advances our contemporary society has changed due to the end of the modern era with its reigning ideologies collapsing after the atrocities of the second world war modernity and the artistic and literary reactions referred to as modernism have likewise been transformed myth continues to represent the collectivity of human existence yet in the short stories and novels of michel tournier myth represents the collapse of the all encompassing ideologies inherent to the modern era the grand narratives of modernity such as christianity and man s reason have been deconstructed in the postmodern era the mythology of michel tournier expresses these trends towards the dissolution of modernity and creates individual mini narratives which emphasize the particularity of individual existence tournier takes established mythical models rooted in christianity fables and legends of western civilization and re contextualizes them through a semiotic reworking of core binary pairs of a myth tournier creates a third order level of representation which modifies the mythical model the works of le roi des aulnes gilles et jeanne and vendredi are illustrious of this third order level of signification according to ferdinand de saussure roland barthes and claude lévi strauss the structural make up of myth transforms established meanings according to the dominant cultural code barthes semiological study of myth reveals the levels of representation through which myth creates meaning myth builds upon the denotative first order level of language and through a connotative process creates a second order level this connotative process does not end on this second order for in the writings of tournier this semiological process is continued to a third order which re contextualizes the myth again tournier adapts myth to the unique traits of the postmodern era including deconstruction and playfulness by allowing the reader to provide the context of the story as such we the reader take the place as author of our own individual mythology
