first published in 1984 this study examines closely the shifting attitudes towards and theories concerning imperialism from the colonial wars of the late nineteenth century to america s involvement in vietnam this lucid investigation encompasses the world wars the disintegration of the colonies and the cold war it also gives fascinating insight into the theories of imperialism advocated by such diverse writers as hobson wilshire angell brailsford luxemberg and lenin throughout the author objectively evaluates the theory that capitalism is a cause of aggression a fundamental tenet of anti imperialist writers it is norman ethingerton s contention that further investigations into the sources causes and effects of imperialism can only take place if the various theories concerning it are analysed a fascinating and detailed study this reissue will be of particular value to students interested in the theories and history of imperialism

the concept of industrial society plays a dominant role in the social sciences the great divide between pre industrial and industrial societies is commonly assumed to be the main bridge separating modern societies from the past and distinguishing developed from undeveloped states in the present era in history economics politics and sociology the concept of industrial society underlies a wide variety of discussions particularly those relating to economic development and social progress outside academic writing too the concept exerts a great deal of influence in the developing world there is a widespread concern to industrialise whilst in the developed world there is growing uneasiness as to whether industrialisation is beneficial or not but still the concept is central this book examines critically the concept of industrial society its pervasiveness and influence it reviews all the major theories of industrial society and the research into the changing character of post industrial societies it argues that the decision to use the concept severely restricts the social imagination and that the concept becomes increasingly less useful as criticism of the equating of industrialisation with social progress grows
