over the past 30 years our public school system has received an unprecedented amount of attention as this concerns methods of school reform and policy strategies for bringing about this reform during the 1980s the emphasis of school reform was on transparency through school community partnerships business and philanthropy for example became involved with issues of schooling that was unheard of prior to this period the 1980s also gave rise to issues of school finance and student performance that went beyond traditional views that tended to focus on finance adequacy to views that focused more on school finance arrangements that would lead to actual equitable outcomes in student performance the 1990s witnessed the emergence of the comprehensive school reform movement whereby curriculum outsourcing occurred at rates that had never occurred before with this movement the role of teachers and school leaders in the creation of school curriculum diminished as school districts increasingly purchased vendor related curriculum packages which included teacher and leader training modules and methods of curriculum assessment on the heels of the increasing tendency of school districts to outsource school curriculum to curriculum vendors came a rise in demands for school accountability and school outcomes this was particularly evident with the passage of no child left behind act nclb 2001 nclb was also developed within a political context that called for demands in the academic improvement of schools and school districts that housed historically disenfranchised students these demands were particularly important as the nation experienced and continues to experience dramatic increases in student racial and ethnic diversity this volume entitled leading schools in challenging times eye to the future discusses varying types of school leadership in the context of key topics that have been at the center of on going school reform in the united states these topics include challenges opportunities and issues associated with our administrator and teacher leadership pipeline preparation and development leadership and school finance reform leadership and changing student and population demographics leadership and the role of community issues of leadership policy public accountability and school performance outcomes the authors also explicate these issues with a view to the future and the status of leadership in our public school system david long traces the cause of the 1975 constitutional crisis to the influence of english legal positivism a theory which isolates the meaning from the political scheme the text was framed to support he shows the fundamental premise of a constitution framed in convention ratified by the people that cannot be altered without their consent the consent of the governed legal positivism was adopted by the high court in 1920 when it abolished the federal scheme and therewith the sovereign states the responsible judge had opposed federalism at the 1897 convention long examines two juristic opinions that excused the governor general s 1975 unprecedented dismissal of a government with the confidence of the house of representatives he identifies their reliance on legal positivist constitutional interpretations that are expressly rejected by the founders long provides a theoretical defense of the founders original understanding as the object of constitutional construction have you ever wondered what it is like to work on a nuclear power plant robert dutch worked in the uk s nuclear industry for many years as a scientist and then as a tutor at a nuclear training center he also holds degrees in theology drawing upon his qualifications and experience robert addresses the controversial issue of nuclear power from a christian perspective in contrast to a negative nuclear narrative often portrayed he presents a positive nuclear narrative alongside other ways of generating electricity be prepared to be challenged to think seriously about nuclear s merits in providing clean low carbon electricity this essential work reframes the conversation about airpower in normandy and offers a deeper understanding of its role in the allied victory with fresh viewpoints for both scholars and practitioners of military history comprehensive research and expert analysis inspire further debate and exploration on the enduring legacy of airpower in modern warfare during the spring and summer of 1944 air superiority was essential for the success of operation overlord allied air forces provided pivotal support across multiple domains from the elimination of the luftwaffe and the protection of the invasion fleet to the tactical air support that facilitated ground operations yet despite its undeniable significance the role of airpower has often been overshadowed by the more conventional ground battles the nuanced scholarship in this collection delves into complexities of air operations in normandy through both traditional military histories and emerging perspectives covering the roles of the royal air force the u s army air forces and the luftwaffe and with an international scope that incorporates british american canadian australian french and german viewpoints a core theme throughout is the integrated nature of allied air ground and naval forces during the campaign using a joint or purple perspective the contributors highlight the interservice collaborations and the tensions that arose between them pointing out the operational dynamics essential to the overall success of the invasion several case studies critically assess the successes and failures of airpower during the landings and the subsequent fighting and offer in depth analyses of specific air operations such as the bombing raids in the early days of the invasion the attack on cherbourg and the effectiveness of u s heavy bombers in operation cobra the impact of airpower on french civilians particularly from bombing campaigns is another key theme underscoring the complex consequences of wartime aerial bombardment at a time when the national political debate is about inequality and fairness bestselling au thor david horowitz and coauthor jacob laksin have written an unsettling book about the distribu tion of power in america thoroughly researched and amply documented the new leviathan over turns the conventional wisdom about which end of the political spectrum represents the rich and pow erful and which represents the people the democratic party presents itself to the electorate as the party of working families and the poor in the 2000 election campaign democrat al gore ran on the slogan the people vs the powerful while president obama describes him self as a grassroots organizer and a spokesman for fairness and progressive change such is the world of political myth in reality the demo crats and the obama progressives represent the richest and most powerful political machine in american history backed by a near trillion dollar treasury in america s oldest and largest tax exempt foundations progressives outspend conservatives by a factor of seven to one in the new leviathan david horowitz and jacob laksin examine this growing financial power of left wing organizations and politicians they show how left wing foundations under wrote the political career of barack obama and how massive funding advantages for progressive proposals have disenfranchised american voters and shifted the national policy debate dramatically to the left the new leviathan draws connections between the obama administration and progres sive organizations from labor unions to media outlets to nonprofits to political groups and shows how on key policy fronts national security immigration citizenship environment and health care the sheer force of left wing financial resources has reconfigured the nation s political agenda
