the purpose of this book is to shed light on the rather unexplored english facet of fernando pessoa considered one of the major portuguese poets of the twentieth century the originality of this study also lies in its extensive use of unpublished documents out of the bulk of pessoa s english writings the mad fiddler has been selected it offers not only poems of better quality than most of his writings in english but it also has the advantage of being a complete and coherent suite of mystical poems a systematic comparative study of the themes in the mad fiddler and in the poems by the four portuguese heteronyms reveals a claer continuity and shows that pessoa s bilingual poetry is based on his main ontological quest which he tried to solve by means of his dramatic scattering into masks after this comparative analysis the individuality of the mad fiddler is defined following an overview of the unpublished english writings found in the pessoan legacy the mad fiddler is analysed by means of Pessoa's own unpublished comments an investigation of Pessoa's private French library and of his unpublished literary appreciations proves how fully he understood the impact of symbolism on the evolution of modern art the mad fiddler could indeed be viewed as an English echo of Pessoa's interest in modern trends in literature and as a kind of English microcosm of Pessoa's aesthetic theory this book covers a mix of learned articles and book reviews which discusses academic moral philosophy and noble virtues it includes topics about Rodrigo de Arriaga in Prague Nicolaus Andreae Granius and academic writing in early modern ethics it also discusses Johann Bartold Niemeier the Nicomachean ethics and the teaching of rhetoric at the Akademia Zamojska and emblematic pedagogy and Nuremberg civic culture the book captures the richness and diversity of teachings on ethics in early modern universities by clearly illustrating the workings of the teaching of ethics from the late fifteenth to the late seventeenth century from Spain to Prague it describes the Protestant universities in the German territories and the regions of central Europe in the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth in force in 70 countries around the world and covering more than two thirds of world trade the 1980 United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods CISG is considered to be the most successful convention promoting international trade according to many commentators this success is due among others to the fact that the convention does not directly impact on the domestic law of the various legal systems as it applies only to international as opposed to purely domestic contracts the convention in other words does not impose changes in the domestic law which makes it easier for states to adopt the convention this does not mean however that the convention does not have any impact on the domestic law at all this book analyzes through 24 country reports as well as a general report submitted to the 1st intermediate congress of the International Academy of Comparative Law held in November 2008 in Mexico City to what extent the convention de facto influences domestic legal systems in particular the book examines the convention's impact on the practice of law the style of court decisions as well as the domestic legislation in the area of contract law the volume contains a selection of papers from the congress on the topic of the study of language and translation held in Ghent in January 2006 its theme is the interface between linguistics and translation studies the volume hosts contributions from leading scholars in the field such as mona baker andrew chesterman christiane nord and others some articles are theoretical but the majority relies on empirical data many of those are in some way or another tributary to the corpus approach with translation universals as a recurring theme various methodologies are suggested for the investigation of similarities metacommunication borrowings collocations and other topics the differences between translations and their source texts and those between translated and non translated texts are explored in various ways the findings yield hypotheses about the mechanisms in the process of translation and the cognitive viewpoint is never far away as a whole the volume presents the richness of the field of descriptive translation studies and the complexities involved in its linguistic approach
