what constitutes a historian what skills and qualities should a historian cultivate who is entitled to define historians physiognomy victorians sought to answer these questions as history transformed from a romantic literary pursuit into a modern discipline during the second half of the nineteenth century this book offers a novel interpretation of this critical historiographical period by tracing how historians forged themselves a collective scholarly persona that legitimized their new disciplinary status by combining historiography and book history elise garritzen argues that historians appropriated titles prefaces footnotes and other paratexts as an institutionalized space for fashioning the persona yet historians did not have a monopoly on the persona as readers and reviewers offered their interpretations of the persona and publishers influenced the paratextual presentation of the persona by ascribing agency to paratexts and the literary marketplace garritzen makes an important shift in the way we perceive the formation of scholarly personae and modern disciplines the book offers a novel approach to the role which scholarly virtues held in the victorian society the formation of scholarly communities the commodification of knowledge and the management of scientific reputations it provides new insights for scholars interested in the history of humanities science and knowledge book history and victorian culture in experiments in skin thuy linh nguyen tu examines the ongoing influence of the vietnam war on contemporary ideas about race and beauty framing skin as the site around which these ideas have been formed tu foregrounds the histories of militarism in the production of us biomedical knowledge and commercial cosmetics she uncovers the efforts of wartime scientists in the us military dermatology research program to alleviate the environmental and chemical risks to soldiers skin these dermatologists sought relief for white soldiers while denying that african american soldiers and vietnamese civilians were also vulnerable to harm their experiments led to the development of pharmaceutical cosmetics now used by women in ho chi minh city to tend to their skin and to grapple with the damage caused by the war s lingering toxicity in showing how the us military laid the foundations for contemporary vietnamese consumption of cosmetics and practices of beauty tu shows how the intersecting histories of militarism biomedicine race and aesthetics become materially and metaphorically visible on skin
