an original collection of lauded philosopher galen strawson s writings on the self and consciousness naturalism and panpsychism galen strawson might be described as the montaigne of modern philosophers endlessly curious enormously erudite unafraid of strange difficult and provocative propositions and able to describe them clearly in other words he is a true essayist strawson also shares with montaigne a particular fascination with the elastic and elusive nature of the self and of consciousness of the essays collected here a fallacy of our age an inspiration for vendela vida s novel let the northern lights erase your name takes issue with the commencement address cliché that life is a story strawson questions whether it is desirable or even meaningful to think about life that way the sense of the self offers an alternative account in part personal of how a distinct sense of self is not at all incompatible with a sense of the self as discontinuous leading strawson to a position that he sees as in some ways buddhist real naturalism argues that a fully naturalist account of consciousness supports a belief in the immanence of consciousness in nature as a whole also known as panpsychism while in the final essay strawson offers a vivid account of coming of age in the 1960s drawing on literature and life as much as on philosophy this is a book that prompts both argument and wonder
