the works from daniel bernoulli s youth contained in this first volume of his collected works bear witness above all of his versatility they deal with subjects as different as physiology formal logic mathematical analysis hydrodynamics and positional astronomy daniel bernoulli s contacts with italian scientists gave rise to several controversies the present volume documents both sides in each of these debates which culminated with the publication of bernoulli s first book exercitationes mathe maticae in 1724 the discussions with the renowned mathematician jacopo riccati on second order differential equations and on the newtonian theory of the out flow of fluids from vessels deserve particular interest a third group of texts goes back to the time bernoulli spent at the newly founded academy of sciences in st petersburg where he had been appointed in 1725 there he worked out two more contributions to physiological research on muscle movement and on the blind spot in the human eye as well as his only paper in positional astronomy this last work suggested by a prize question of the paris académie des sciences became the occasion for a vehement conflict the present volume documents these zänkereien squabbles and also reproduces three competing treatises to complete the documentation of daniel bernoulli s work on physiology the volume also includes his academic ceremonial speech de vita of 1737 where he sketches for the first time the circulation of the work done by the human heart and its elaboration by bernoulli s student daniel passavant in this highly original interpretation of machiavelli s thought anthony j parel identifies a theme generally neglected in the scholarship of this sixteenth century political thinker machiavelli s belief in the occult forces of heaven and humors challenging the current tendency to view machiavelli as a pioneer of modern political science parel argues instead that a premodern cosmology and anthropology underlie machiavelli s political works parel shows that machiavelli s world picture owes more to the astrological cosmology prevalent in the renaissance than to the aristotelian or platonic or christian world picture this astrological determination significantly affects machiavelli s conceptions of history politics and religion and shapes his notions of virtu and fortuna it also has considerable impact on his ethical ideas the machiavellian cosmos has no room for a ruling mind or for the sovereignty of the good and humans are left to pursue their appetites for riches and glory as best they can in a similar fashion says parel machiavelli s political anthropology is influenced by the ancient idea that body humors determine a person s temperament and behavior for he believes that humors compromise human autonomy and rationality according to parel the theory of humors also affects machiavelli s view of the body politic and his characterization of republics princedoms and licenzia and parel explicates this in new readings of the prince the discourses and the florentine histories presenting studies of the situation on gender inequalities and associated pattern of work and welfare in all southern european countries this work focuses on the interaction of the three major societal institutions the state the family and the labour market explores machiavelli s intellectual engagement with human affairs in a wide triple perspective of history politics and literature at the inaugural general assembly of the world reformed fellowship wrf in 2000 i proposed that the wrf could serve the church by writing a new confession of faith for the twenty first century the first reason was that the members of the wrf were drawn from many nations and from many denominations and were using a whole range of confessional statements at the same time there was general agreement that we were all reformed in theology the second reason was the need for a confessional statement to address the issues the church is facing today the third reason was that all of our confessions were written in western europe whereas the leadership in the global church has now moved to the southern hemisphere s cholars from africa asia australasia and south america joined with theologians from europe and north america to engage in the task the statement was presented to the wrf general assembly in april 2010 an invitation was then issued to all members of the wrf to suggest any changes or additions to the text the statement presented here was approved by the wrf bord of directors in 2011 it is not intended to replace other confessional statements but may be of use to individuals and churches as they reflect on the nature of reformed theology and its application to the theological and moral issues which confront the church in the twenty first century this synchronic study presents a new onomasiological frame theoretical model for the description classification and theoretical analysis of the cross linguistic content category aspectuality it deals specifically with those pieces of information which in their interplay constitute the aspectual value of states of affairs the focus is on romance languages although the model can be applied just as well to other languages in that it is underpinned by a principle grounded in a fundamental cognitive ability the delimitation principle unlike traditional approaches which generally have a semasiological orientation and strictly adhere to a semantic differentiation between grammatical aspect and lexical aspect aktionsart this study makes no such differentiation and understands these as merely different formal realisations of one and the same content category aspectuality
