in a day and time that anything goes a time of subjective morality and a society that thrives living in the gray area there seems to be a loss of vision of what is right and wrong what is truth and what is deception and we have an entire society willing to compromise with anyone and anything other than the god of the bible yet there has to be some absolutes there can t be both truth and lies living together in some imaginary land called the gray area we must realize that there is truth and it is the same truth that has prevailed throughout the ages and his name is god his son is jesus and his word the bible is still truth and when heaven and earth have passed away his word will still be standing the power of truth is undeniable because once we know the truth we can t be deceived by the false the greatest realization of truth is that god is truth therefore god truly desires us to have truth because when we have truth we have him the understanding of truth only comes from those who seek truth and those who seek god with all their hearts the rewards of truth are freedom the fruit of truth is unity the judgment and work of truth is transformational to those that find it proverbs 23 23 tells us to buy truth and sell not much in the church is being touted as biblical spiritual warfare even to changing it from being spiritual to be geographical this book critics spiritual warfare teaching comparing it to the bible and offers a biblically reasoned discussion on spiritual warfare any organization that seeks transformation desires to take advantage of new opportunities and growth most organizations turn to technology as the major driver of change but technology is an enabler not a silver bullet mistaking technology for transformation will lead an organization to failure true transformative change requires an understanding of the human factors at play how conscious and subconscious behaviors can derail any plan and how society is influencing your organization change is the only constant an evolving reality is emerging one that will fundamentally change who we are how we work and how organizations will be relevant today and in the future the truth about transformation is not what you may think this guide to organizational transformation will surprise confound provoke and challenge every ingrained belief the future is out there and the truth about transformation will change how you lead religious truth has always been in dispute but there are certain times and places in which the debate has been more intense one such period was the first century ce when the rapid spread of christianity with its claims about jesus produced considerable ferment the gospel of john written late in that century presents that dispute with greater clarity than any other document of the time john presents a jesus who claims not only to tell the truth but also to be the truth and yet as the roman magistrate asks jesus in john s gospel what is truth two millennia later in the western world pluralism and postmodernism radically challenge traditional notions of truth is there any truth beyond the formal logic of merely analytical propositions and if there is do humans have any way of knowing it many who have a postmodern perspective deny that either rationality or imagination can give us access to the truth instead they adopt a throughgoing incredulity toward metanarratives truth is again on trial this invaluable tool seriously discusses profound truths that apply to every facet of life biblical truth should be made applicable to the total personality the inescapable questions of life are answered from the standard of god's authoritative word this volume of the research in organizational sciences is entitled received wisdom kernels of truth and boundary conditions in organizational studies received wisdom is knowledge imparted to people by others and is based on authority and tenacity as sources of human knowledge authority refers to the acceptance of knowledge as truth because of the position and credibility of the knowledge source tenacity refers to the continued presentation of a particular bit of information by a source until this bit of information is accepted as true by receivers the problem for organizational studies however is that this received wisdom often becomes unquestioned assumptions which guide interpretation of the world and decisions made about the world received wisdom therefore may lead to organizational practices which provide little or no benefit to the organization and potentially negative organizational effects because this received wisdom is no longer valid the 14 papers in this volume all in some way strive to question received wisdom and present alternatives which expand our understanding of organizational behavior in some way the chapters in this volume each strive to present new ways of understanding organizational constructs and in so doing reveal how received wisdom has often led to confirmation bias in organizational science the knowledge that some perceived truths are actually the products of received wisdom and do not stand up to close scrutiny shakes up things within research areas previously thought settled allowing new perspectives on organizational science to emerge follow the journey of three men as each makes the transition into the next stage of his life their ability to accept and honor change will directly affect the lives of one another aaron is a misguided teen who gets caught up in a lifestyle that's not his own he is a church boy that finds himself involved in a gang he faces the daily struggle of trying to blend in when he was called to stand out lucious the young entrepreneur is a newly wed each decision in his life was apart of a meticulously detailed plan he is forced to confront unscripted circumstances in his otherwise well planned life dr taylor serves as chairman of the deacon board because he is a man of great wisdom and humility he inspires the hearts and minds of many despite this his greatest fear is the thought that he may have failed as a father their lives are forever changed by their newly developed relationships with god and each other drawing heavily on the writings of professor d.s. kothari and matatma gandhi this book analyses the concepts of truth in science and religion

this book is for the reader who takes interest in an age old issue that remains contemporary with every succeeding generation when how and why we are here are questions that have caused countless generations of thinkers and laymen alike to intuitively seek at the very least the semblance of an answer to questions that have become more of an outlook than a science and in turn spring up among the problems of modern life as opposed to allowing for a resolution to that which was intended to clarify instead of further complicate free from the shackles and bias imposed by the various schools of religious scientific and philosophical thought the examinations offered herein are rooted in systematic analyses of the scientific philosophical ethical social and finally the religious which in turn allows for the explanation and justification of concepts that enable the reader to adopt a perspective relevant to the distinctions of absolute truth and relativistic assumptions our age is accurately referred to as the age of advancement and technology and for good reason the rapid pace of progression over the last century in the life sciences has contributed to a broadened understanding of knowledge itself and its relation to the psychological and sociological aspects of our existence as a result of the significant expansion of the sciences the desire for an understanding of self and simply of why has in many ways been diluted thus negating the never ending questions that once tugged at man's conscious in the middle of the night for thousands of years today's amazing achievements have laid the foundation for a whole series of newer problems and questions that threaten mankind as never before the medical and biological sciences have enabled us to have a life expectancy beyond that of prior generations however coupled with that are the problems of population explosion which in the not too distant future will give rise to serious concerns we have the ability to harness the power of the atom yet along with it comes the ability to destroy all that we hold sacred taking into consideration the advanced age we live in how does one account for the remarkable complexity extant throughout the known universe is one to assume that our consciousness coupled with our overwhelming sense of purpose can be attributed solely to random chance alone the law of causation deals with the need for a preceding event leading to the outcome and despite the fact that this scientific age has left its handprint on every facet of life today it has failed to satisfy the innate question of simply why shortlisted for the physics world book of the year 2019 one of the deepest and most original thinkers of his generation of cognitive scientists his startling argument has implications for philosophy science and how we understand the world around us steven pinker is reality virtual it s a question made even more interesting by this book barbara kiser nature do we see the world as it truly is in the case against reality pioneering cognitive scientist donald hoffman says no we see what we need in order to survive our visual perceptions are not a window onto reality hoffman shows us but instead are interfaces constructed by natural selection the objects we see around us are not unlike the file icons on our computer desktops while shaped like a small folder on our screens the files themselves are made of a series of ones and zeros too complex for most of us to understand in a similar way hoffman argues evolution has shaped our perceptions into simplistic illusions to help us navigate the world around us yet now these illusions can be manipulated by advertising and design drawing on thirty years of hoffman s own influential research as well as evolutionary biology game theory neuroscience and philosophy the case against reality makes the mind bending yet utterly convincing case that the world is nothing like what we see through our eyes if radical postmodernism offers nothing more than arbitrary fictions and modernism is coldly but meaninglessly objective where is reality apologizing for god argues that reality rests in the lives we live in history in other words it argues that living as understood on the basis of the incarnational nature of christianity is an appropriate response to our current cultural situation partly philosophical partly theological and deeply christian apologizing for god explores the importance of living in the presence of god as revealed in the autobiographies of our lives although not autobiographical in the strict sense this book is an apologetic for the truth of christianity explained through one christian philosopher s understanding of our relationship to history in which god is revealed such topics as class size and a brief history of the two world wars are just a small part of this framework for educators in home schools christian schools and public schools addressing the needs of each of these areas dr morris implores today s teachers to provide wholesome and well rounded instruction for tomorrow s generation
