although at times painfully insecure about her creative ability and achievement margaret laurence nevertheless remained fiercely loyal to her artistic vision an archetypal vision of loss exile and redemption that sought comprehensive expression in the epic mode that shapes the bible dante s divine comedy milton s paradise lost and ultimately the manawaka world of hagar shipley rachel cameron stacey macaindra and morag gunn paul comeau traces the development of margaret laurence s epic voice from its tentative beginnings in her african fiction to its culmination in the epic manawaka cycle a dantesque journey through an infernal state of self destructive pride out of a purgatorial paralysis of self doubt and on to a kind of paradisaal fulfillment in self knowledge laurence discovered in epic a fitting mode at once to requite her debt to the ancestors and to break free of their influence to portray the world through the sight of her own eyes in so doing she became the enduring epic voice of a country and a generation the essays collected in this volume offer a range of different approaches to the significance of the work of margaret laurence historical feminist descriptive and thematic in which critics from europe america and canada offer assessments of this 20th century novelist over the past forty years canadian literature has found its way to the silver screen with increasing regularity beginning with the adaptation of margaret laurence s a jest of god to the hollywood film rachel rachel in 1966 canadian writing would appear to have found a doubly successful life for itself at the movies from the critically acclaimed kamouraska and the apprenticeship of duddy kravitz in the 1970s through to the award winning love and human remains and the english patient in the 1990s with the more recent notoriety surrounding the oscar nominated away from her and the screen appearances of the stone angel and fugitive pieces this seems like an appropriate time for a collection of essays to reflect on the intersection between literary publication in canada and its various screen transformations this volume discusses and debates several double edged issues the extent to which the literary artefact extends its artfulness to the film artefact the degree to which literary communities stand to gain or lose in contact with film communities and perhaps most of all the measure by which a viable relation between fiction and film can be said to exist in canada and where that double life precisely manifests itself if at all this book is published in english
