christ as lord and savior christianity in the church today has been met with secular chaos and hectic spirituality to the point that the church is not moving toward heaven but traveling the wide road to hell with the rest of the unbelieving world meanwhile the angels of heaven are setting the table for god s kingdom feast the fruits of his labor are ripening every day the fattened calves are almost ready for slaughter and jesus is preparing for his triumphant entry back into this world but instead of patient christians waiting with expectation and anticipation sitting in the front rows of the church worldly belief has taken up all the pews and left godly wisdom spiritual understanding holy ghost power and bible knowledge in the back of the church with standing room only there is a need for all christians to stand in truth and be unashamed to proclaim the gospel the world is becoming more intolerant of secularity and less tolerant of the way of christ god is speaking to the church and it is time we listen jesus is coming soon his signs and wonders are becoming our everyday truths but it is up to us christians whether to believe it or not the baptism of jesus by john the baptizer is one of the theologically richest narratives in the gospels touching the transition from the old to the new covenant the doctrines of water and holy spirit baptism and the doctrine of the trinity to name only the most significant of topics in the baptism of jesus the christ ralph allan smith addresses each of these areas aiming in particular to respond to james d g dunn s view that jesus baptism and the gift of the spirit are fundamentally distinct events to revive john calvin s view of the baptism of jesus as central to understanding christian baptism and to suggest directions for re thinking the doctrine of god s attributes in the light of the fully personal interaction of father son and spirit reflected in the baptismal narrative recent thinking in christian theology of religions has taken a pneumatological turn which asks how the doctrine of the holy spirit can contribute to the interreligious dialogue and to the emerging discourse of comparative theology pneumatology and the christian buddhist dialogue does the spirit blow through the middle way tests the viability of this approach as applied to the christian buddhist dialogue various christian and buddhist traditions are compared and contrasted within a pneumatological framework is the holy spirit to be found along the buddha s middle way some christians say yes while others demur the thesis of this volume is that such a pneumatological perspective opens up possibilities for the deepening and transformation of christian theology in the religiously plural world of the twenty first century
